

Workshop

Ancient Measuring Systems

Current research and methodological advances

25 avril / 25th April 2024

Salle/Room Pierre Paris (ACH037)

Maison de l'archéologie

Université Bordeaux Montaigne

9h ~ accueil et introduction / welcome and introduction

9h20 ~ Grégory Chambon, Adelheid Otto : Measuring grain in Bronze Age Mesopotamia: the little man, the strickle and the measuring-vessel

10h ~ Christophe Nicolle : Measuring pots capacity in an emic approach of Mesopotamian potters

10h30 ~ pause / break

11h ~ Maria Emanuela Alberti : Observations on the Minoan handless conical cups: capacity through chronology

11h30 ~ Enrico de Benedictis : A matter of grains: a new text-based methodological approach to study light weights

12h ~ discussion

12h15 ~ pause déjeuner / lunch break

14h15 ~ Lorenz Rahmstorf : The metrology of Bronze Age balance weights and weight-regulated artefacts – proof, precision and practicability

14h45 ~ Antonio Manuel Sáez Romero : From the market to the table. Insights on the Phoenician-Punic capacity standards in southern Iberia through the study of pottery

15h15 ~ Thibaud Poigt : Plural metrological systems from Late Prehistory Europe. Current research

15h45 ~ pause / break

16h15 ~ Pierre Moret : Elusive feet. In search of metrologies in Iron Age Iberian architecture

16h45 ~ Rémy Wassong : "Street Foot". Settlement planning and metrology in Celtic Europe during the Iron age

17h15 ~ Florian Téreygeol : Weighing in a medieval Pyrenean mining enterprise (Castel-Minier 14th-15th centuries): system, locations and uses

17h45 ~ discussion

